

Finally For You

Words and music by Alexander Sands, 2004

Just as wind fills a sail, wind fills your gown
I hold onto your leg as we parachute down
From another world, another time, beyond inner space
I hit the ground running when I fell from your grace

I wanna be forever,
I wanna be forever, forever with you

And I want to lay, beneath the sky
Asleep with a smile, your head on my thigh
Far away and all alone, beyond heaven's reach
Eager to learn what your heart's got to teach

I wanna be forever,
I wanna be forever, forever with you

I crave your body, and the salt of your sweat
And who know for certain, just where it was we met?
I may have been a lot of things, but I've known all along
That working beside you is where I belong

I wanna be forever,
I wanna be forever, forever with you

I live on a lawn, and you by a lake
Your leaves float away, while I'm left here to rake
What's left of this love, my skin, and my face
I'd give my whole life for just one lone embrace

I wanna be forever,
I wanna be forever, forever with you