

Filling The Void

Words and music by Alexander Sands, 2014

There's a hole in my chest where my heart once was
But I gave away all my love to you
Now I'm filling the void,
Filling the void
And I'm so empty inside

There's a hole in my head where my mind once was
But it burned away after all of the drugs we did-
Now I'm filling the void
Filling the void
You're gone, but honey so am I

I took so many chances, I can't remember anything no more
All I see are the colors of a world I thought I knew
And now my hopes, my dreams, and visions
All went right down the tube
Was it me- or was it you?

Now my liver and my kidneys couldn't pay the rent
And out the door I went
With a bottle, in my right hand

There's a hole in the ground where my body lies
And from the time you're born until the time you die you try
To keep filling the void
Filling the void
Until there's nothing left to fill no more
(and then it overflows...)
